ST. LOUIS MEETS CARTER

With the steam calliope serenading the First Family, the stern-wheeler Delta Queen cast off from St. Paul, Minnesota on an eight-day cruise through middle America. The Queen's voyage would include 660 miles of mainstream U.S.A.

The cruise was both a political and getaway vacation for the Carters. Making frequent stops in river cities, President Carter took his campaign message ashore. Between stops, the First Family nestled themselves in a $280.-a-day stateroom in the 53-year-old riverboat.

Accompanying them on the cruise was a 30-member entourage, several press persons, and 134 other paying guests. Press coverage, however, was limited to stipulated hours and interviews with passengers who had talked with the President were not allowed.

The high point of the voyage for the President's daughter, Amy, was her stop in historic Hannibal, Missouri, the hometown of Mark Twain. As the cruise came to a halt in St. Louis, President Carter and his wife, Rosalynn, commented on the beauty of both the Gateway Arch and the St. Louis riverfront.

Spending only a brief time in the Gateway city, the First Family jetted back to Washington D.C. and their daily routine. Throughout the eight days, however, Carter tried to get Americans to think "energy" and help salvage the energy program, as well as enjoy hours of contentment aboard the "grand old lady of the rivers."

SPRING FOLLIES

The 1979 Spring Follies had a radio and television theme this year. Each Oral Communications class wrote and performed skits such as "The Evening News," "1.98 Beauty Pageant," and "Stomper Room." Commercials were performed by Ronald Pennell's Acting I class.

The first-place winners Wendy Kambarian's class with "Saturday Night Live." Beverley Scroggin's class took second place with "Stomper Room," and third place went to Richard King's "Who's on First."

Other spring activities included senior Tacky Day with an Outer Space theme. The response was not spectacular but there were several good contestants.

First place went to Rocky Lupardus who was Mork from Ork, and Tom Schildman took second as he walked the halls dressed as Luke Skywalker from Star Wars.

MAY DAY 1979

GRADUATING GIRLS ENTERTAINED WITH VARIETY OF SKITS

The Master of Ceremonies, Brian Ropac, began the evening by introducing Kathy Longos, the retiring Homecoming Queen. After the applause weakened, the second attendants, Kim Rapp and Mary Earney were introduced; followed by the first attendants, Bonnie Luebbert and Dana Harris.

The highlight of the evening took place when Kathy Longos crowned Christy Bauer the 1979 May Day Queen.

To add entertainment to the evening, the speech department presented skits. S.L.A.C., the new 1980 sponsor of May Day, did a dance routine to "Ease on Down the Road," while Linda Hill's jazz and tap class disco danced to "Last Dance." Mrs. Hill also choreographed a dance to the theme song of May Day, "The Long and Winding Road." It was performed by the modern dance class.

The evening festivities concluded with the traditional May Pole dance and candle light ceremony.

HOMECOMING PLAY GREAT SUCCESS

Four weeks of dedicated practice culminated in an impressive presentation of this year's Homecoming Play, The Man Who Came to Dinner. Many hours of dedicated work went into the performance. "The students did a remarkable job," commented director Ronald Pennell.

Mr. Pennell worked with the actors each day as they learned their lines and cues. Meanwhile, Beverley Scroggins and her two Stagecraft classes constructed a realistic and versatile set.

As these aspects of the show began to work together, the real characters of the play began to emerge. The company's hard work paid off; genuine talent shone through each of their two performances and left the audiences moved and impressed.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ENJOY GROUP TRAVEL ABROAD

Many people spend a lifetime dreaming about a trip across the seas. Some, however, are not content to dream. Each year, many groups of GCHS/S students translate their flights to fancy into flights across the Atlantic or Pacific. Soon they find realization even better than anticipated.

Students traveling to these countries, however, cannot expect many of the amenities they have grown accustomed to in the U.S. So, they adjust.

It may take the average American traveler a few days to become straightened in his mind to money matters, strange settings and languages, but the great struggle to avoid confusion is soon mastered by the young travelers.

Ancient and modern sights vie for their attention. Exciting modern cities and mysteries of the past await them. Countless unique shops, museums and enchanting customs provide their utmost in travel enjoyment.

Also added to the enjoyment of the trip, and making it more personal, is traveling in a group. Being part of a group, the students share their knowledge of the country with each other. The more information that is shared, the easier it becomes for everyone.

But, alas, all good things must soon end. The past is gone forever. But through this vast experience, the memory of cultures of the past blend to enrich and embellish the colorful life of today's high school students.

SENIORS ENJOY SPRING FORMAL

On May 5, 200 couples gathered at the Breckenridge Pavilion Hotel to begin the 1979 Junior/Senior prom.

Those attending were constantly reminded of the theme "Stairway To Heaven" by the various decorations in the colors of blue and silver. A lucky girl at each table was given the centerpiece. All girls received a plaque inscribed with the theme. Many couples had their pictures taken as a remembrance of the evening.

After a buffet meal, couples danced and refreshed themselves with punch and cookies, which were served on the terrace.

SOUTH PERFORMS SOUND OF MUSIC

After weeks of intensive practice, the 1979 Spring Musical, The Sound of Music, was presented by the Music and Speech Departments. It was under the direction of Beverley Scroggins. The music for the play was performed by the Orchestra conducted by Terry Waller.

The Music and Speech Department's work paid off during their presentation of the play on April 5, 6, 7. Fred Schuler won the award for Actor of the Year and John Manoogian won Best Supporting Actor for their performances in the musical. These awards were given to them by the Speech Department.

"Advanced Stagecraft built excellent sets, and the stage crew also did an excellent job," commented Beverley Scroggins. "I enjoy working with students who are interested in what they do."

STUDENTS MODEL LATEST FASHIONS

Girls interested in various fashion work enroll in a class called Fashion Merchandising. Taught by Cathy Reibold, the girls work on various committees and learn stage personnel, promotion, and publicity.

Each year the students, with the help of their instructor, present a fashion show. "The show gives the girls a memorable high school experience," says Mrs. Reibold. "I enjoy watching their progress from practice to the actual show."

The show gives the girls a chance to model new clothes and gives the audience a preview of the latest fashions.

WINNING SEASON

The 1979 Baseball Warriors, coached by Conrad "Babe" Champion and John Modica, compiled a 20-7 record.

With a 5-0 record, Jeff Tretter lead the pitching staff. Jeff Lindsay also went undefeated, winning four games and Dave Weil contributed four more wins. John Vrenick had the lowest earned run average with a mark of 1.12. The rest of the Warrior pitching staff consisted of Rick Klobe, 1-0, Mike DeGonia, three saves, and Al Yount, 3-2 and five saves.

The team batting average for the Warriors was .260. Jeff Parker was the most consistant hitter with a .360 batting average. Bob Stegemeir and Jeff Tretter were the only other Warrior hitters to bat over .300, .301 and .307, respectively. Tretter lead the team in home runs with four, while Pat Hogan hit a team-leading four tripples.

After a 20-6 regular season record, the Warriors prepared for the regional tournament held at South. In the first game of the toumey, South was defeated by a more experienced Jerseyville team.

SLOW BEGINNING FOR SOFTBALL

Consisting of seventeen players, the girls' softball team won two games out of nine. Considering this was only the second year, Coach Pat Yates was pleased with the season. Girls in Granite City haven't played fastpitch softball, so it was an adjustment for everyone.

Karen Spencer did the majority of the pitching with relief from Natalie Buster.

Girls receiving awards at the banquet were as follows: Best defensive player, Susan Jeffries; Most RBI's, Tina Sedabres; and Leading batting average, Ann Shepley, with a .423 average.

"We're looking forward to next season," said Pat Yates, "as we should be much improved with the experience gained this year."

RECORDS BROKEN IN GIRL'S TRACK

With the help of a new head coach, Mike Loftus, and a new assistant, Dave McClain, the girls track team had a record of 4-4.

Even though the season didn't start until two weeks before meets, the girls still managed to get conditioned and break six records.

Denise Goode broke her own records from last year in the 110 low hurdles with a time of 16.5 seconds and a time of 33.4 seconds for the 220 low hurdles. Peggy Flinn set a new record of 4'9" for the high jump.

Julie DeRuntz broke the old record of 65.1 for the 440 yard dash with a new record of 64 seconds. Linda Bell, Tracy Conkovich, Julie DeRuntz and Sandy Robinson teamed up to make a new record for the 880 yard medley with a time of 2:03.

None of the team members made it to state competition but Denise Goode got eighth place in the hurdles in districts.

SIX GOOD PLAYERS GO TO DISTRICTS

Experience is always a factor in competition. A lack of experience hurt the boy's tennis team record early in the season. They lost 6 of their first 7 matches. The team, however, made a quick comeback and won twelve of their last fifteen matches, finishing the season with a thirteen and ten record.

Outstanding team members were Tom Longos, Ed Schmulbach, Pat Theis, Herman Schrader, George Sykes, and Terry Malench. These boys, along with the other team members, contributed to a good winning season.

At Districts, the team placed third, with the doubles team of Terry Malench and Ed Schmulbach placing second.

"The team is getting better each year," said Coach Richard Harmon. "I like coaching tennis and working with such good boys."

SENIORS SAY BYE

A warm spring night, caps and gowns of red and black, and another traditional GCHS/S graduation was under way. Parents, relatives, and friends applauded their special senior as the high school administration and Board of Education members called the names of each boy and girl who walked across the stage to receive a diploma.

Jeff Vaughn, the valedictorian and Floyd Lee, salutatorian, reminisced and reflected on their life as high school students, and Mr. James Dumont discussed the outlook of the future for the 1979 graduating class.

As the evening concluded, it was both a joyous and sad time for seniors. They knew that this would be the last time their class would ever meet again as a complete group. As they stepped through the doors of the Memorial Gymnasium, they ended their life as high school students. They ended thirteen years of bookwork and routine classes. They now face the responsibilities and challenges of the future.

SENIOR BOYS INTEGRATE GIRL'S COOKING WORLD

Senior Foods, in the past, has basically been a class for girls. However, in the past few years, more and more boys have been enrolling in it. The kitchen is no longer just a place for woman, as more men are finding that they are having to cook for themselves.

The basic objective for the Senior Foods course is for students to be able to plan and prepare simple family meals following the principles of good nutrition and meal planning. Grades are earned through kitchen activities, food preparation projects, written tests, reports, and class discussion. Students begin by learning the four basic food groups, buying the food, and servicing a table. The members of the class then proceed in preparing many different breakfasts including eggs, cereals, and beverages.

Lunches include salads, fruits and vegetables, casseroles, and quick desserts. Planning and serving dinner consists of preparing numerous kinds of meat such as pork, veal, lamb, and seafood. Also prepared with this meal are salads, yeast breads, and desserts such as pies and cakes.

"This year," said Carol Siesner, one of the Senior Foods instructors, "the members of the classes conducted a Halloween Tea in which each student will invite one teacher and have an experience in serving guests. Also, we had an entire meal for a Thanksgiving feast including turkey and all the extras." Mrs. Siesner hopes that the number of boys taking the course continues so that they will have some knowledge as to how to plan and prepare a family meal.

DRIVING IS FUN

Each year, Sophomores and Juniors are required to take Drivers Safety and Drivers Training. Students are required to take these courses. However, they do not have to pass them to graduate. Each course runs for a nine week period. Drivers Safety consists of learning traffic signs, signals, marking and laws. Students also learn how to react to traffic accidents along with driving in hazardous conditions such as snow, ice, and rain.

Drivers Training consists of two days of simulation alternating with two days of behind the wheel driving. In simulation, students sit in a simulated drivers side of a car and drive to scenes which are projected onto a screen in front of them. They drive in the city, on the highway, in snow and rain, and learn to react to hazards such as hood pop ups, brake failures and children running out in front of them.

All of this happens in one seat in simulation. Driving in the actual car is a different story, involving all of the skills one learns in safety and simulation.

STUDENTS LEARN BASIC SKILLS

Skillful use of various machines can be obtained by students who enroll in the machine shop courses offered at South. The courses last two years and begin with Machine Shop I which eventually ends with Machine Shop IV.

Students who have successfully completed four semester of the Machine Shop courses have acquired enough knowledge about machines to find jobs or apprenticeships as machinists. After graduation, students can further build on their skills and advance into more precise jobs, such as a specialist machine worker.

"Welding, drafting, math, and English courses come in handy for general use around the shop," says Joseph Kutosky, Machine Shop instructor. "It is good for students to have a basic knowledge of courses."

"Most of the students are average students who work steadily in class. There are approximately 20 students per class and the class lasts for three hours," he says.

Sometimes the projects get difficult but Mr. Kutosky says he is "glad to have good students."

A CLASS FULL OF UNKNOWNNS

The Chemistry 3 classes seem to be very popular these days with the upperclassmen. One reason is that there was lab two days a week. "I like having lab two days because it breaks the monotony of being in the classroom all five days," said Jackie Bogosian.

The entire series of labs are spent on unknowns. This is where the student receives a chemical, and must find its identity by performing different experiments on it. The days which are spent in the classroom are used to review material from chemistry 2, take it to greater detail, and add new material for class enjoyment.

The students all seem to agree that a big part of the success of the class should be attributed to the teacher, Ken Gattung. Brent Houston seemed to speak for everyone when he said, "Mr. Gattung gets his point across in a way that is fun, but you learn."

OFF TO WORK

"The purpose of the Office Machines course is to enable students to use machines skillfully in solving problems that may apply to their vocational, college, or everyday lives," said Milton Cox, Office Machines teacher.

Once enrolled in the course, students are amazed at the simplified ways they can improve their calculating with percentages, invoices, manuscripts, and other methods of office procedures by using the machines.

The various machines include the ten key calculator, display calculator, fluid duplicator, stencil duplicator, and the dictating transcribing machine.

The most popular job is the office manager. The room office manager is well known because she assists the teacher in helping other students and other work he may have. It also breaks the toil of machine work. Office manager rotates weekly, in order to give everyone a standing as head of the class.

"Office Machines is interesting and it breaks the monotony of everyday work," says Loretta Heagy. "It's going to give me experience for the business world," concludes Debbie Tillman.

Milton Cox has taught here since 1956. He has been teaching Office Machines ever since it started—1960. He feels the course helps in every asset of office machine work in business.

SOUTHERN LEADERS

The senior officers of the class of 1980 were Phil Beljanski, president; Lori Derossett, vice-president; Susan Robinson, secretary; and Tracy Dimock, treasurer.

Besides being the class president, Beljanski was the chief officer of the National Honor Society and the Letterman's Club. The varsity soccer player and wrestler was also chosen the Homecoming King.

A member of the Homecoming Court herself, Derossett was the president of Student Council. Because of her efforts in this organization since her freshman year, she was voted as Class Representative by her fellow students.

Robinson was also a member of Student Council. She displayed her school spirit as a football cheerleader and in the Red Peppers' Club. She too was voted on the Homecoming Court, as well as the class treasurer, Tracy Dimock.

Dimock, a statistician for the soccer and basketball teams, had been treasurer during her sophomore and junior years. She summed up the opinions of the senior officers when she said, "It was an honor and an opportunity to do something for the school on behalf of the class of 1980."

SENIOR SPIRIT GOES ON

The Senior class had many chances to support their fellow students in sporting activities this year, and did so with enthusiasm and excitement.

They cheered their Soccer Warriors to another victory at the State Tournament in Palatine. Many new cheers were originated by the student body this year. As the soccer players battled out on the field, the students of South defeated the North student body "Pyramid Power" by knocking down a human pyramid built by the North student body.

On the gridiron, Red Peppers displayed banners to support the football Warriors. They also decorated the goal posts and had a spirit hoop which the team ran through onto the field.

The first class of the 80's has the chance to carry on the South tradition.

LEON, LEON, LEON, LEON

The seniors of the 1980 class had a special addition to the student roster back in the fall of '76 when we were all just Freshmen starting out in high school. This extraordinary person was an exchange student from Tanzania—his name was Leon Zeblock.

When Leon first entered the school, he thought he would get off to a good start with all of his American friends, so he ran for Freshman student body president. And he won even though Laurie Jones was the favorite. He was denied the honor to fulfill his position because of election fraud. So Leon went underground.

He was late to all his classes, traveled through the halls in the shadows, wore plain clothing, and spoke to no one except his closest friends.

Years and memories have passed since Leon was a Freshman, but now he is faced, as all other Seniors are, with the next giant step they will take with their life.

Even though Leon was not the most popular person in high school, he will be throwing the biggest graduation party in the history of GCHS/South. After the summer is over, we will all say good-bye to our mysterious friend as he will travel back to Tanzania. Leon, the class of 1980 salutes you.

VARIETY VARIETY

Students of the class of '80 were offered a number of classes in different fields of study.

A variety of languages were offered, such as French, German, and Spanish. Students used the language lab, and can work on a one-to-one basis with their instructors.

Journalism was responsible for the publication of the High World. It carried a wide variety of articles on school activities and sports.

Biology was offered to students interested in science. Labs were conducted so the class could better understand their material.

Classes were also offered in business. Such classes as Business Law, Book-keeping, and Accounting were taken to sharpen the students' talents.

Whatever class a student chose, he went to his counselor and worked out a schedule so that he had a chance to reach his goals in life.

DAZED AND AMAZED

The Christmas assembly presented the professional hypnotist, Tom DeLuca.

Highlights of the show included: Gay Hubbard did everything Mr. DeLuca said to an extreme. She laughed until she was crying ... complained of Bruce Monahan getting all too friendly ... Jane Lee and Sandy Mendoza acted the part of a stripper very artistically, when St. Louis was said ... Scott Greathouse asked to see Sandy Zarlingo naked ... Scott Buenger asked to see Dan Gundlach in the nude. He laughed when Gundlach stood ... Mr. DeLuca stood on Mendoza's stomach while her head and feet were propped on two chairs ... Buenger cried when he thought he wrecked his best racing car ... Bibi Christoff counted eleven fingers on her hand ... Greathouse bent over, Monahan pulled his shirt over his knees, and Buenger hid behind a chair when they thought their flies were open ... Lori Derossett stuttered when asked what her name was ... Susan Squires and Derossett made funny faces at the crowd on the words "thank you" ... And to end the show, Scott Buenger ran to the microphone and warned everybody that there were Russian spies among the audience and the gym was booby trapped with mines.

The students hypnotized missed a very entertaining Christmas assembly, but put on a very good show for everyone else.

SOUTHERN FANS

Six hundred loyal Southern fans traveled north to Palatine in hope of another state championship. They withstood the very low temperatures and snow through three South victories.

They saw the Warriors score seven goals while allowing none in the first game. In the Saturday morning game, they witnessed Phil Beljanski's two goals while the defense shut out the opponents. After the state final game, everyone welcomed the 1979 champions back to the hotel where the festivities commenced with the band marching through all five floors playing "Dixie".

Although the state finals were held very close to Chicago, the Warrior fans outnumbered the Chicago team fans each game. Early Sunday morning the fourth straight state championship trophy was brought downstate to Granite City.

EXCESS ENERGY TIME

Weekends—they were never long enough; always the fastest two days on record. Every Friday after seventh hour had rolled around, students could be heard muttering "TGIF" as they ran sprints through the halls in an effort to get home.

Weekends were regarded as pure leisurely fun. They offered the time to go skating, play racquetball, watch television, see a favorite movie, or read a book.

While not a frequent occurrence, weekends were sometimes utilized for typing entire term papers, reading whole chapters in English or Civics, or doing plenty of Math homework.

Whether they were exciting or rather boring, weekends were always welcome because it broke up the monotony of the Monday-through-Friday routine. Weekends—always the next best thing to vacations.

BAND MEMBERS SHOW SPIRIT

Now that juniors are considered upperclassmen, they leave behind that unsure feeling of going to high school and become more active in school events. Juniors participate in numerous school activities and clubs such as Red Peppers, Band, Social Studies Club and many others.

One of the most spirited group of juniors at South is the Band and in particular the drummers. These students are very supportive toward sporting events and show much enthusiasm.

The drummers are found at football and soccer games and have become somewhat of a tradition. They get fired up with enthusiasm. The sound of the drummers pounding on their drums causes team members, coaches, and fans to also become spirited with excitement. This excitement seems to always help the Warrior team to another South victory.

TIME TO RELAX

With a chemistry lab out of the way, or a third period history test cancelled, a free period couldn't have come at a better time.

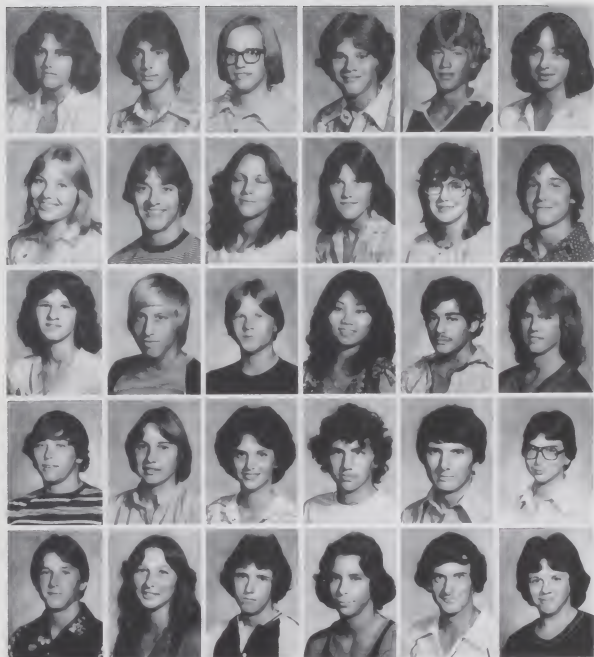

It was during these times that juniors took full advantage of the good weather and began to gather and socialize. The cafeteria area and outside the band room were a few of the favorite gathering places.

"So far this has been my most difficult year," says Pat Collins. "But I am not sure what to expect next year." "We need this time to relax," says Dave Aperson.

Whatever way juniors chose to relax, there was always some place suited to it.

1. Juniors take time out from lunch to have a little fun. 2. Troy McIlroy and Jim Frangoulis enjoy their lunch period outside. 3. Chris Boyd and Kenny Wilson try to hitch a ride. 4. SOUTH SHOW TIME

"Come see a play," and see how much fun it really is! That seemed to be the message junior and senior actors and actresses were telling their fellow students.

Feeling and emotion was put into every performance in a variety of different ways and styles. From John Manoogian portraying Sheridan Whiteside in The Man Who Came to Dinner, to Laurie Ferrere in The Sound Of Music, tasteful and good performances were displayed in the Granite City High School/South tradition.

Extra applause was often heard after the curtain closed, which made every minute of practice worth every minute of performance.

1. Wally Brylak performs his duties as butler in The Man Who Came To Dinner. 2. Norbert Tate, David Hunnicutt and Pat Collins wanted their picture taken. 3. Brock Hill comforts Shelly Meehan in the Homecoming play. 4. Steve Phelps playing Dr. Brady informs Sheridan Whiteside played by John Manooogian of the results of his x-rays. 5. ABLE-BODIED JUNIORS

There were so many juniors who played such an important role in sports this year, that it is impossible to say something about them all. A few who contributed to the Warrior cause were Steve Ficker, who was a very good catcher for the baseball team, Bruce Monahan, an excellent punter and place kicker for the football team, and Susan Squires, who competed in the State Tennis Tournament for the second time this year.

Also contributing were Chris Jenkins, a starter and very good player for the field hockey team, Jeff Taylor, an extremely good distance runner with a bright future, and Lloyd Sharp who was a member of the soccer State Championship Team. All of these young athletes deserve a great deal of credit as do all of the other juniors who contributed to the Warrior cause.

ONE YEAR TO GO TO BE THE BEST

Not quite at the top of the heap, although hardly at the high school beginning, the Class of '81 enjoyed the best of two worlds. Unlike the shy ways with which they once approached sports and activities, the "Purr-fect" juniors were found active in many areas.

Student Council members helped students appreciate their school, pom-pom girls displayed talented half-time shows at athletic events, and skillful actresses and actors displayed their talents on stage. Band members drummed the sound of victory and fans continued to say they were "Number 1."

Juniors were an extremely visible facet of GCHS/S this year. From their J-U-N-I-O-R cheers to their participation in all activities, the juniors made themselves well known.

HOW TIME FLIES

It's really kind of amusing—our junior year has come and now it is almost gone. Of course it should not be surprising that time flew. But still it seems that not too long ago we were only freshman, awed and sometimes amused by the happenings at GCHS/S. But even with memories of two full years, it was still hard to believe we are juniors and halfway through our high school days when we began this year.

We didn't waste much time during our year. We saw all we could see at sporting events, went to assemblies, ate hundreds of hamburgers, and had lots of fun.

With the close of this school year, it will be downhill for us all the way.

SOMETHING TO CELEBRATE

Let's face it. The seven hour and 20 minute-long days were usually quite the same. From listening to the daily announcements, to rushing frantically after gym to the next class, to getting books ready for a homework filled night, a routine life was set.

But ever so often a holiday comes around to relieve the monotony. Halloween was one of them. Costumed students and spooky monsters were only a few who invaded the classroom privacy. Creatures from all over the world wandered through the halls and mingled with GCHS/S students.

Toward the end of the day, slowly and surely, all these characters found their way to the auditorium to be part of judging who would be "the best." Miss Pumpkin was honored as #1; followed by Pinocchio and Darth Vader.

ANTICIPATION

Sophomores anxiously await the arrival of the drivers safety and training program. Smiles painted upon eager faces show a sense of pride and maturity as eligible students enter into the classroom for the first time. For nine work filled weeks, sophomores study the rules of the road and important traffic laws. After the required nine weeks of drivers safety students then proceed on to drivers training, where the dream of driving a car is fulfilled.

In order to enroll in drivers training students are required to have passed drivers safety and to have attended a minimum of thirty classroom hours.

Of all the courses taught at South, the drivers safety and training program were the favorite among most sophomores.

A WORK OF ART

For students interested in art and art history, South offers a series of courses that deal with all these perspectives.

Students enrolled in Art 1-3 work on one and two point perspective, design shading of four objects, and several still lifes. Students also study the color theory and a monochromatic design is done.

After the completion of Art 3, students may enroll in the advanced art program, where they will work on an oil painting and a copy of a master's artwork. In addition, students also do research in the medias of art and do a ceramic sculpture of a human figure.

South's art department holds an art show each spring. This gives the student an opportunity to show his or her work.

1. Art I students continue to work hard in order to meet upcoming deadline. 2. Students concentrate shading of objects. 3. Sheila Obranovich aids Felicia Unoste in drawing objects to be shaded.

HARD AT WORK

All Freshmen are required to take at least two semesters of science courses. Whether they chose to take Biology or Life Science, they usually have a chance to do a little dissecting.

In the Biology classes the work tends to be more difficult. Not only do they dissect the worm, they carve into the frog along with other insects and animals.

Besides dissecting, the students work with the microscopes watching small animals swim around in drops of water. While other classes mix chemicals to see what they can come up with.

FRESHMEN BEGIN WINNING HABIT

Today's Freshmen are tomorrow's state champs. If all freshmen that are involved in sports would think about this we might be state champs in more than just soccer.

So often freshmen quit playing after their first year for various reasons, the main one is they didn't get into the games as much as they thought they should. But if every freshman that thought this way would just stick with it they would find that things usually get better.

OFF TO WORK

Not every GCHS/S student had a job, but there were a number of them who did. Jobs that were limited to the warmth and sunshine that summer had to offer drew to a close. Whether minding children or taking care of a swimming pool, students were kept busy and exercised until the start of the school year.

Some students, though, were lucky to have a job that was not limited to summer's warm breezes, letting them continue working throughout the year.

What mattered to most who were 16 or older was that $2.65 an hour. Jobs that were just a way one got a taste of real life before it was actually demanded of them.

WHEN YOU'VE GOT THE TIME . . .

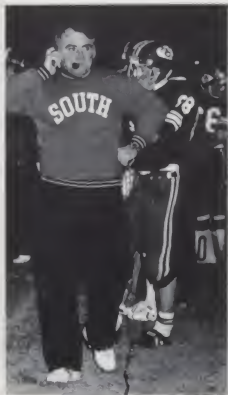

Interest continues to grow in extracurricular activities as many faculty members are devoting their time to help students develop in areas other than those covered in the classroom. Ron Pennell, who is in charge of the Homecoming play and faculty play as well as department head of speech and theater, enjoys working with the students. "We only have 4 to 5 weeks to rehearse for the Homecoming play which sometimes means 5 or 6 rehearsals a week. The kids just do a super job!" said Mr. Pennell.

Another faculty member who plays a vital role in extracurricular activities is Joseph Owens, the band and pom-pom leader. When asked why he takes this task upon himself, Mr. Owens replied, "It's the kids. That's where it's at. I enjoy working with them and I try to help the band kids grow musically and produce the best sound possible."

Coaching is another activity that brings about a long working day. Not many people would submit themselves to the ups and downs of this responsibility. Having an unstable job at times, coaches are either high in the clouds with winning or down in the dumps with losing. Nevertheless, the coaches here at South seem to enjoy their jobs and enjoy helping young athletes attain their goals in athletics.

Today's teacher is not just a classroom teacher who is only interested in giving homework and tests, grading papers, or sending failing notices. Today's teacher is also a person.

A TASTE OF LIFE

A colorful array of exotic dishes met the eyes and tempted the appetite of all those who attended the ethnic banquet.

Everyone who came was required to bring an ethnic dish, so there was plenty of food to go around again and again. Music and dancing was led by Helen Velloff and Wendy Kambarian, with assistance by Carolyn Ozanich and Dottie Robins. A slide show courtesy of Scott Beueger was an added bonus.

The smorgasbord included dishes from various ethnic backgrounds. By the end of the evening, everyone felt like one, big stuffed cabbage.

A CLOSER LOOK AT GCHS/S

"A Closer Look At G.C.H.S. South" was this years Open House theme. Some of the special features offered were free babysitting by the Vocational Child Care Center, free lung tests, free blood pressure readings, free refreshments, a filmstrip on financial aid, a fashion show, and a super-sectional volleyball game.

The main program began at seven o'clock with a performance by the stage band and pom-pom girls. A welcome cheer by the cheerleaders was next, followed by a welcome by Principal James Dumont, and presentation of awards to Century III winners.

In these Mini Classes, visitors could go to courses in Art, Business, Drivers Education, English, and Foreign Languages, and actually have a classroom discussion for about fifteen minutes. Other Mini Classes included Health, Home Economics, Mathematics, Off-campus Education, Physical Education, Science, Social Studies, Speech, and Special Education. To bring the eventful evening to a close, the teachers were assembled in various rooms for one half hour so that visitors could talk with them.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH PHILIP SHATTO

Having taught at South for fifteen years, Philip Shatto has seen many changes in the student body. He thinks the students have less pride in their work and don't seem to have as good a background in history as they did ten years ago.

To get students interested in social studies, Philip Shatto formed the Social Studies Club in 1969. The club sold candy to go to such places as Washington D.C., Colonial Williamsburg, the South, Hawaii and a Caribbean cruise. Their first trip was a three day one which included the Truman Library in Independence, Missouri and the Eisenhower Library in Abilene, Kansas.

Mr. Shatto's favorite subject to teach is Current Events/Foreign Policy because "it isn't usually taught and it's a challenge to teach because of the lack of knowledge of world events."

MAN OF MANY ACHIEVEMENTS

William Schmitt, alias Coach, alias Bill, alias Red, and alias Schmitty, has been at GCHS/S for thirty years. Presently the boy's P.E. department head, head wrestling Coach Schmitt has experienced such "thrills" as coaching a 1965 state champion, being chosen National High School Coach of the Year, being the 1974-75 President of the National Wrestling Coaches Association and is in the Illinois High School Coaches Hall of Fame. Schmitt also holds the national record for wins with 512 victories for dual meets and 103 victories for tournaments.

When not coaching, Schmitt is a "road racer". He runs an average of 10 miles a day and has been in races from three to 26 (marathon) miles long. Out of a total of 50 races, Schmitt has won 21, placed second 14 times and placed third eight times.

Schmitt also is a professional high school and college football referee and a track starter.

Over the years, William Schmitt has had many achievements and has helped his wrestlers see many achievements also. With a sentimental look in his eyes, Schmitt replied, "I am honored by having the pleasure of coaching so many outstanding wrestlers." He was also in World War II and served his country in Africa and Italy.

GRANITE CITY SOUTH IS BEST IN A DECADE

The Warriors opened their 1979 football season against a tough Belleville East team who was ready for some hard hitting action. The Warriors matched the Lancers drive for drive, but with 1:15 left in the first half, East constituted a drive and scored, making the score 21-14 at half-time. In the second half, the Lancers committed several mistakes, but we failed to capitalize on any of them. In the third quarter after a punt was fumbled, Terry Singleton scooped up the loose ball on the Belleville 33 yard line. The first down attempt failed, so the Warriors went for the field goal. It went wide, so the Lancers took over. 11 plays later, East had a 13 point lead of 27-14. South had the ball, but again failed to move it. On the Lancer's next series of plays, a long pass was intercepted by John Vrenick, who returned the ball to the Lancer 29. South moved the ball five where Blake Ambuehl scored on a quarterback keeper, making the score 27-21.

On the kickoff, a forty yard return started the Lancer's last scoring drive. Seven plays later, the score was 33-21, but with the two point conversion, the final was a disappointing 35-21. The Warriors had several more chances to get back into the game, but they were all cut short by penalties.

The second match the Warriors faced was against a evenly matched O'Fallon squad. The difference in this victory was produced by the toe of the place kicker, Bruce Monahan. On the Panthers first possession of the game, a running back dove into the line for a first down attempt, but came up short of the down, and without the ball. When the play was finished, Walt Streicher had the ball and gave the Warriors an opportunity to take an early lead. Having the ball deep in the panther territory, it took the Warriors only four plays to reach the end zone. Later, in the third quarter, Blake Ambuehl was dropping back for a pass, when a defender stripped the ball, and it was recovered by a Panther on our 23 yard line. O'Fallon wasted no time in getting the ball into the end zone, for four plays later on a 10 yard pass, the receiver scampered down the sidelines for the score. The extra points by both teams were wide, so the score was 6-6.

The final score of the game came with 3:15 left, when Bruce Monahan booted a field goal, making the final 9-6 also putting the Warriors on the road to a winning season.

The next rivals faced were the rough contenders from Cahokia. The play that altered the game was a quick kick by Steve Phelps, who sailed the ball to the Commanche 16. After a fumble was recovered, it took the Warriors seven plays to get onto the board. The second scoring drive came late in the first half, which was paramount by a 3 yard run by Jeff Bergbrader. The third assault was ended at 6:15 left in the third when Scott Polson scored, making the score 21-0.

In the fourth quarter, Blake Ambuehl ran an option from the 30 for another touchdown. A safety increased the Warrior lead to 30-0. The final blow was delivered with 3:19 remaining in the game. Mike Medina dove over the top of the line for the final touchdown of the evening. South was on their way with a impressive win of 37-0.

NEW CONFERENCE—NEW BEGINNING

The Warriors finished the season with a 5-4 record, and the best team in ten years.

In the next match, the Warriors were dealt a defeating blow by the Crusaders of Althoff, who eventually ended up the conference champs. South scored first on a pass from Blake Ambuehl to Kevin Greene, but the score was quickly contradicted by Althoff, 38 seconds into the second quarter. The Crusaders attacked again with 1:25 left in the first half, making the score 14-6.

Missed tackles by the Warriors, and long runs by Althoff gave them their final touchdown in the fourth quarter, making the final 21-6.

The fighting Warriors opened the second half of the season against the Edwardsville Tigers, who played a vigorous game, but were beaten by the Warriors, 7-6. Coach Wojcik attributed the victory to the outstanding effort by the defense.

The game on the gridiron was scoreless until in the second quarter when Ambuehl punted the ball, which was deflected off of the Tigers receiver shoulder, and Mitch Lemmon recovered the loose ball on the Edwardsville 5 yard line. On the next play, the handoff went to Mark Marsh who ran for the touchdown.

In the third quarter, South fumbled the ball on their own one, where it was recovered by a Tiger. They scored, but missed the extra point, which proved to be crucial in the outcome of the game.

The Warriors next faced the crosstown rivals of Granite City North. In the first quarter, North went ahead on a pass by a spectacular one-handed grab, in which the receiver went down the line for the score. Later in the first half, Kevin Greene broke through the Steeler punt formation, and got a hand on the ball. The ball rolled around and was picked up by Mark Marsh who returned the ball to the North 17. Mark Clark ran the ball in for the touchdown on the next play, tying the score at seven. One touchdown was scored by each team early in the second half, but the upset for South came late in the fourth quarter. A Steeler offender broke away, and ran deep into Warrior territory. Two plays later, South found themselves down by seven, with little time to come back. Their drives proved unsuccessful, suffering a defeat to the Steelers, losing 21-14.

South played Cahokia next, for the second time this season, and took an early lead, threatening again when they stopped the Commanches on their 31, where the Warriors took over. They moved the ball to the six, when Blake Ambuehl carried the ball around the end for the second touchdown. Both teams battled without scoring until South started their drive in the fourth, after receiving a punt at midfield. Polson, then carried the ball for long gains, getting the pigskin down to the eight. The Warriors' capitalized their drive when the touchdown made the final score, 20-0, another assuring victory.

In the final game of the season, when the teams are at their best, it was a chance for the Warriors to show the Steelers who was who.

On the second play from scrimmage, Ron Gushleff leveled the North quarterback, popping the ball loose, with Doug Spalding recovering the ball on the Steeler 12. Seconds later on a ten yard pass from Blake Ambuehl to Kevin Greene, South found themselves with an early seven point lead.

On North's next possession, penalties moved the ball back to the Steeler 38. North fumbled the ball, and it was recovered by Lee Heubner on the 43. Strong running moved the ball to the five, where Scott Polson ran in, making the score 14-0.

Late in the second quarter, John Vrenick intercepted a Steeler pass, and the Warriors started another drive from the 47. Ambuehl ran the ball on an option deep into Steeler territory. In two plays, Blake hit Lee Heubner in the corner of the end zone for a 21-0 lead.

North scored their only touchdown of the game with 1:41 left in the game, but only a few loyal fans remained to cheer for the score. The final was a overwhelming 21-7.

ANOTHER BANNER YEAR FOR THE WARRIORS

The 1979 soccer season began with the majority of Illinois asking if Granite South would win the state title again. The answer varied throughout the season, but when the final of the state tournament was over the question was being raised yet another time. For the soccer Warriors finished the season with a fourth straight state tournament title while achieving a 24-5-4 record.

South defeated Edwardsville, its first opponent in '79, on three goals by David Fernandez and Tony Pierce's first shut-out at South. This victory was significant in that it marked Coach Gene Baker's 200th career coaching win.

The Warriors then tied New Trier East 1-1 and lost to the Missouri State Champs, Vianney 2-1 on the same day. The following contest matched the Warrior kickers against the cross-town rival, Granite North. South played without three key players, David James, Phil Beljanski, and Fernandez, because of injuries. After eighty minutes of play, the duel ended in a scoreless tie.

The Warriors blanked Edwardsville 9-0 and Hinckley Big Rock 2-0, but then was upset by Alton 2-1 and Belleville West 0-

0. The kickers rebounded with convincing victories over Waterloo Gibault and Belleville East. Against McCluer North, South scored two goals by Jeff Tinsley and David Paz to tie the score, only to eventually lose 3-2 to the St. Louisians. Paz then scored three goals helping the Warriors trounce Lebanon 9-0. With this victory South began a string of five victories.

The second to fall to the kickers was Springfield Southeast. The Warriors then defeated Belleville Althoff 6-1, with the help of three goals by Jack Burnett.

Then in Beljanski's second game of the season, the striker led the team to a victory over Quincy in four goals.

The next game featured the kickers in a rematch against Granite North. Although South dominated most of the contest, the score after regulation time was 0-0. The Steelers eventually won the game on sudden death penalty kicks.

South reestablished its winning ways by capturing the Parkway Invitational Tournament in St. Louis.

In the first game Burnett scored two goals and with David Fernandez, back in the line-up after a knee injury, led the team to a 3-1 victory over Parkway North. In the quarter finals, the Warriors coasted by Parkway South 7-0, advancing them to the finals. The final match pitted South against an aggressive Parkway West team. With an inspirational lift from David James, playing in his first game of the year because of a broken wrist, the kickers scored three second half goals to win the game and the tournament.

The Warriors then lost a thriller to Rosary, 3-2 in overtime. The following game matched South against Hazelwood East. Remandez, back in form, scored two goals and had two assist in the 5-0 victory. Then the Warriors extended its string of victories over Collinsville to nine as the kickers shutout the Kahoks 1-0 on an overtime goal by Beljanski. The next game five different players scored as South blanked Belleville Althoff 5-0. To end the regular season, the Warriors played at Cahokia. South dominated the game, but couldn't score and ended the regular season with a 15-5-4 record.

The Tradition Continues

The Junior varsity team compiled a 11-7-1 record for another winning season for Coach Mel Bunting. This was achieved with a predominately freshman squad playing against juniors of other teams.

The highlight of the season was a 2-0 victory over Granite North. A strong offensive effort by Phil Popmarkoff, and team play of Jim Gibson, Tony Segobiano, and Tim Oshia led the team on to victory.

The toughest lesson for the freshmen was adjusting to high school play. The newcomers learned of the hard work and pride involved in keeping the tradition of a winner at South. Helping these athletes were former players, Charlie Bennington and Marc Mason. The soccer players benefited from their experience and talents, and the soccer program owes these two a great deal of thanks for devoting their time on a voluntary basis.

This year's team had no single most valuable player because there was about forty players with the same ability and talents splitting playing times. Coach Bunting is looking for a leader to emerge from these talented players next year. If the freshmen and sophomores devote the time that is needed to be a winner, the future of Granite South soccer looks very bright. For the main purpose of junior varsity play is to prepare for the varsity level.

WARRIORS EARN TRIP TO STATE

The Warriors opened defense of its state title with an easy victory over Waterloo in the first round of the sub-sectional. David Fernandez and David James led the scoring with three and two goals, respectively.

The second game featured South against Belleville East. The Warrior defense prevented East from getting any shots on goal or corner kicks. Meanwhile, Phil Beljanski, Lloyd Sharp, and Jack Burnett provided one goal apiece for the margin of victory. With this triumph, the kickers advanced to the finals against Belleville West.

Because of a steadfast defense and a goal by James, this would be West's last game of the year. The backline of South allowed West one shot on goal and no corner kicks. The defense also originated many offensive opportunities, as on the winning goal. Fullback Greg White dribbled the ball on an overlap midway through the third quarter. On this play he found an unguarded James in front of the goal, who shot it past the goalkeeper. South then advanced to its seventh straight sectional tournament. Collinsville, Quincy Sr. High, and Alton joined the number one seeded team.

In the first game, South pounded Collinsville 5-0. Early in the second quarter, Craig Kessler scored the first of four goals on a head shot assisted by Fernandez. Burnett finished the scoring on his second penalty kick of the game in the third quarter.

The second game matched the Warriors against Quincy Sr. High, winners of its first game, also. Taking one game at a time, South out classed Quincy 4-1. South's string of eight shutout games was broken late in the contest on a penalty kick.

Alton was the next opponent of the kickers. Led by Fernandez's two goals and Tim Powderly's strong play, South blanked Alton 3-0. Greg Powderly was credited with the shutout. This victory made the Warrior's sectional record a perfect 3-0, and Granite City South had earned a trip to the state tournament for the fifth straight year.

THE WARRIORS OWN THE TOURNAMENT

The Warriors completed the first task of defending the state title by overpowering Wheaton Central 7-0. This output of goals in below-freezing temperatures tied the record for most goals in a game.

The kickers, winning the tenth straight state tournament game, broke to a 4-0 half-time lead on two goals by Jeff Tinsley. David James, Jack Burnett, Randy DeRousse, Phil Beljanski, and Tim Dix scored the other goals. Tony Pierce had just three saves as South outshot Wheaton 24-4. Hinckley Big Rock, whom the Warriors had previously beaten 2-0 in the regular season, would be the next opponent.

South dominated the contest, as shown in the shots attempted 33-2, however, the sloppy turf neutralized the game, somewhat. After fifteen minutes of play, Phil Beljanski scored his second goal of the tournament. David Fernandez's shot couldn't be handled cleanly, and Beljanski pounced on the opportunity. Late in the fourth quarter, Beljanski scored an insurance goal from twenty feet on a pass from Tinsley. This gave the Warriors a 2-0 victory and a right to defend its title against New Trier East.

The kickers came into the final game with several players hurting with injuries. New Trier jumped to an early lead in the first quarter. The Indians continued to control the play in the first half, but behind an incredible effort by David Paz, South went into the locker room trailing by one goal.

The Warriors started the second half by stealing the ball from a New Trier East player, and converted it into a scoring opportunity. South's dominance over New Trier had begun. It was nine minutes later when Fernandez scored the equalizer on an excellent feed from James. At this point, the Warriors owned the game, but the score remained tied until midway in the fourth quarter. Burnett scored the winning goal on a throw-in from Craig Kessler. Then with only two minutes left in the final, Jeff Tinsley fired a shot past the goalkeeper from thirty yards. Jim Brewer received the assist. After this goal, Coach Baker raised his arms in triumph, for the game was over. The Granite City South Warriors were Illinois Soccer State Champions... Again.

A VERY GOOD YEAR FOR THE HARRIERS

The 1979 Granite South Harriers were satisfied with their season even though no one qualified for the state tourney. Dave Houston did not do as good at the beginning of the season this year as he did last year due to oral surgery.

Jeff Taylor was the backbone of the team at the beginning of the year. Drew Geisler and Joe DeRuntz made the 500 mile club which helped train them for the season. They ran during the summer at the park and around Granite City. Jeff Taylor almost made the 500 mile club, but only finished 400 of the 500 miles.

Coach Harmon was satisfied with his team when they did exceptionally well at the Gateway East Conference Championship held at North on Oct. 19. The Harriers ran away with the title with a score of 28 points. North was second.

Houston placed third in this year's district and South placed fourth overall and advanced to the Sectionals. A week later in Alton, Dave Houston placed ninth in the Sectional Tournament. All in all, it was a very good year.

GIRL'S TENNIS EXCELS

The 1979 Warrior tennis team finished the season with a remarkable win-loss record. Under the direction of a new coach, Gary Morgan, the team put forth outstanding effort.

Members of the team practiced at least two hours daily after school to prepare themselves for upcoming matches.

This year the team sent four girls to state, Laura Gabriel, Susan Squires, Susan Bell, and Wendy Kelly. In order for the girls to advance to state, competitors must first capture districts. At the district tournament Susan Bell and Wendy Kelly lost to Susan Squires and Laura Gabriel, in the final round.

Exposure to professional tennis on television has helped increase the popularity of high school tennis. Coach Morgan developed a strong team by drilling on net work, cross court work, and on serving.

"Although the team was smaller this season than in previous seasons they showed great ability and power," remarked Coach Gary Morgan.

Coach Morgan also said, "I was really pleased with the hard work and determination each girl showed. I'm looking forward to next season for I'm sure the girls will do equally as well if not better than this season."

WARRIORS BATTLE THROUGH UPS AND DOWNS

The 1979-1980 Warrior cagers had a season similar to that of a roller coaster ride with numerous ups and downs. At times the Warriors played with total domination, aggression and intensity, and at other times playing simply unorganized basketball.

At the start of the season the Warriors had high hopes, starting one of the biggest front lines in the area, with the average height being about 6'4", only to find that throughout the season they would have trouble putting the ball in the hoop. This lack of offense was somewhat countered by above average defense, allowing their opponents an average of 56 points throughout the season, but the object of the game is to put the ball in the hole.

The seasons' opener took the Warriors to the Mount Vernon "Turkey Classic" Thanksgiving Tournament, where they first met the host team, Mount Vernon, and defeated them 68-60. James Blasingame and Kevin Greene started the season quite well as they each had 19 points along with Lee Heubners' 18. The encouraged cagers next faced a quick Kankakee Westview team only to lose a close one, 48-46. The Warriors finished off the tournament by nearly upsetting East St. Louis Lincoln and nearly winning the tournament by doing so. However they fell short 63-60 despite the team shooting 60% led by Blasingames' 19 points and 6 rebounds.

The cagers then had their first Gateway East conference game where they blew away Belleville Althoff 76-49. Kevin Greene led the scoring with 17 points as well as nabbing 7 rebounds. With an even 2-2 record, the following three games became prime examples of a low spot in the season. The Warriors record fell to 2-5 as they were downed by Belleville West 74-63, WoodRiver 56-48, and Edwardsville 66-50. Lower shooting percentage proved to be a key factor in each game despite Greenes burst of 22 points again at Belleville West and Brent Houston and Bob Firtos' attack of offense against Ed Wardsville.

Christmastime brought the Warriors to the annual WoodRiver Holiday Tournament where they were defending champs from the year before. The Warriors showed signs of returning to their winning ways, defeating Bethalto 50-37 and slipping past an extremely quick Lovejoy team by a margin of 50-48. Winning the tournament seemed probable as the Warriors met the hosting Oilers, only to shoot poorly and lose 58-45.

The Warriors then took a roller coaster ride when they whipped Triad 70-42, then were dominated by Cahokia 56-49, and then came back and stomped Roxanna 72-48. Blasingame, Heubner, and Greene were each in double figures in all three games. Granite North was the next opponent or victim as many would put it. South was fired up and ready to play when tip off time came. The Steelers were sorry they showed up as the unstoppable Warriors crushed the Steelers 60-34 backed by superb defense by all players. John Vrenick led the team in defense with 6 steals and numerous assists.

Top-rated Collinsville came around next to punish the Warriors 74-52. This severe loss put the Warriors in a stagnant state of playing as they could only muster up 40 points against Alton the following week. A lack in intensity prevailed the Warriors style of play in the next two games, this time South was victimized by Belleville Althoff, whom they had blown away earlier, and Mascoutah who paralyzed Souths' offensive attack. Intensity returned the following week with excellent play to nearly upset Belleville East. The Warriors outscored the Lancers 24-10 in the third quarter and Bill Skinner scored a buzzer beating to tie the game at 68 all and send the game into over time. The Warriors only could get one basket in the 3 minute overtime as Belleville East scored 4 baskets to clinch a victory.

The 5 remaining games could not be covered because of the press date of the yearbook, but the returning intensity could lead the Warriors to a 12-12 season and give them excellent chances in the post season regional tournament.

HOCKEY TEAM HAS SPIRIT

Some of the names are the same but their positions have changed. With the exception of Goalie Janet Scannell, the girls field hockey team has been revised and rebuilt.

The statistics didn't show it, but the girls had a pretty successful year. Finishing second at sectionals was one of the highlights for the girls. After having a 2-9-1 record during their regular season, the team beat Mascoutah 2 to 1 in double overtime which led them to the final game of the sectional tournament, where they played last years state champs from Edwardsville. "Even though they were defeated 3 to 0, it was one of the best games the girls played," said Dorothy Mitchell.

The girls are already looking forward to playing next year and keeping their fingers crossed that the sport will not be discontinued at South.

In the Illinois High School scene, Field Hockey seems to be a vanishing sport. There are only 29 teams entered in the state tournament this year compared to 56 teams in 1975. South has one of the four remaining teams in the down state areas and there seems to be some question as to whether or not it will be offered here next year. If that happens someones chance for a college scholarship may vanish too.

As Kim Watson stated, "After Miss Mitchell's lasagna meal the season will be a complete success."

STAY UP TO PAR

For those who preferred a sport with less time, pressure, and publicity, but more individualized concentration, golf was the answer. The school could not provide memberships to prestigious country clubs, but members of the team explored many courses and had an opportunity to travel.

The team had a respectable season with seniors Greg Mulach and Greg Pare providing good support. Finishing with a 3-15 record, Coach Chaney commented, "Eight of the 14 losses were only by one stroke."

Although the seniors will not be returning, the team should remain strong. Many underclassmen, such as Larry Holder, will be looking forward to next summer when sun-filled practices start again.

A GOOD YEAR

"This team has been one of the best offensive and serving teams I have ever coached," says Wilma Schulze of the girls volleyball team.

Ending up with a record of 14 wins and 12 losses and a first place trophy in districts, Ms. Schulze looked forward to next year. "The attitude and hard work of the girls made this year what it is," says Ms. Schulze.

The junior varsity team consisted of 4 sophomores and 8 freshmen. The team ended with 4 wins and 12 losses.

WARRIORS PIN FOR WIN, HOLD FOR POINTS

The Wrestling Warriors began the 1979-80 season ranked 4th in Illinois. The Warriors won their first dual meet by defeating Edwardsville 53-2. Chris Cottrell, Rick Presswood, and Greg Garland started the match with three consecutive pins. In the first double dual meet, South defeated Bloomington and then shut out Mt. Vernon 65-0. Cottrell recorded the quickest pin in school history by sticking his opponent in seven seconds. Again Presswood and Garland stuck their opponents with a broken nose, and Tom McElroy. Bruce Monahan pinned his 395 lb. Centralia opponent in the first period highlighting a 54-9 victory.

South then blanked East St. Louis 60-0 and defeated Springfield Southeast and Urbana in a double dual meet. Winning ten of the thirteen bouts, the Warriors conquered long time rival, Normandy 56-11, and improved their record to 10-0 with a 50-13 decision over Parkway North.

In the 19th Annual Holiday Wrestling Tournament at South, sixteen teams from Illinois and Missouri competed for the coveted first place. This year Riverview Gardens edged out the Warriors by two points to take the honors. Dean Perkins and Scott Polson won their individual classes, the second year in a row for Perkins, and Garland and Rich James wrestled for second place in their respective classes. Randy Lupardus, Phil Beljanski and Tom McElroy. After defeating Belleville East 42-12, South continued its winning ways by easily winning over Pekin and Peoria Richmond in a double dual. The lowpoint of the meet was the loss of Presswood at 105 lbs. for the rest of the season because of a dislocated elbow.

In a disappointing conservative match in which the wrestlers tried not to lose instead of going for the win, South lost its first dual meet of the season to Belleville West. The wrestlers rebounded, however, by trampling Parkway West 51-9.

Behind 7 first place finishers, South then triumphed in the Hazelwood Central Quadangular meet. Roxana and Lindberg, rounded out the field of opponents. Then, the Warriors advanced their record to 18-1 against Cahokia. Perkins and James pinned their opponents in the 30-18 win. The breaking point of the match came when McElroy defeated the Commanche 3-0, with an escape and a takedown in the waning seconds of the match. Perkins and James continued Souths' domination with pins and final score was 30-18.

With six top individual honors, the Warrior wrestlers took first place on the McCluer North Quad meet. Actually the quad was 3 individual meets with the team scores tallied to determine champion. South Beat Hickman 46-9, McCluer 55-8, and Quincy 35-22 for the winning 136 points.

The next meet was the annual North vs. South dual meet. According to both coaches, North was favored in the first six bouts and South was favored in the last six contests. However Mike Trgovich started the Warriors off on the right track with a 9-5 decision over his 98 lb. opponent. After the Garland-Miller dual, 2-2, South was winning 6-5. Then Randy Lupardus, a slight underdog, in fine fashion defeated his town opponent, Tracy Patton 12-7. After a loss at 126 lbs, Randy's brother Rodney Lupardus whipped his opponent 7-0. Then after victories by Perkins and Drue Clement, Scott Polson pinned his opponent in the second period of the match. To continue the sweep in the high divisions James won 8-3 and Monahan won 11-7. Then the Warriors turned up for the conference meet by trouncing Belleville Althoff 53-7. Seven pins accounted for this victory which made the Warriors 23-1.

In the first Gateway East Conference wrestling tournament, South totaled 161 points for the conference crown. Wrestling for Beljanski, out after reinjuring his nose, Mike Neibur conquered over the 132 lb. weight class in his first varsity tournament. Other Warrior winners were Randy Lupardus, Perkins, Clement, Polson, and James. Cottrell, Garland, Rodney Lupardus, and Tom McElroy captured second place, and Mike Trgovich received third place honors.

The post season competition for the state finals commenced the next weekend with the Districts at WoodRiver. South won its twenty-third District crown by accumulating 171 points to 136 by the second place finishers, G.C. North. Individual champions were Greg Garland, Dean Perkins, Drue Clement, and Rich James. Second place finishers who will advance with the champions to the Sectionals at South, were Randy Lupardus, Tom McElroy, and Scott Polson. Rodney Lupardus, Phil Beljanski, and Bruce Monahan attained third place medals for their performance.

Due to an early publication date, the yearbook cannot cover the Sectional and the State finals in Champaign. The staff wishes the Warrior participants in the South Sectional the best of luck in the remaining post season competition.

ICE HOCKEY TEAM SKATES TO WIN

The teams are out on the rink. The game has begun. The clock starts running and the only thing on your mind is getting that puck through your opponents goal. Each minute is a new challenge. You try to improve your time, speed, and strategy in every possible way.

If you get that little frozen puck past that goalie, you can relax for a few minutes with a sense of accomplishment and pride. If you miss, you are sad. But the game is not over and you can still cheer on your teammates and hope that they will work together for the remaining time and win the game.

You want to do well for your own satisfaction and you also want to do your best for the team.

GIRLS AIM FOR PERFECTION

The girl's basketball team experienced an excellent season this year. The team was coached by Norman Grote and Gary Morgan.

"The team acquired much more experience and defense was improved greatly. Lack of consistency in offense was the team's only weak area," said Norman Grote.

Graduating seniors were Susan Bell, Laura Gabriel, and Betty Bulva. Juniors on the team this year had a good season, allowing them to gain more knowledge and experience that should result in a good over-all team next year.

"Belleville East, Belleville West, and East St. Louis were our roughest opponents," Grote continued.

Danny McGowan was the team manager. Sherry Dilday and Karen Spencer were the statisticians.

Organizations

NHS STUDENTS GAIN HONORS

National Honor Society, sponsored by the National Association of Secondary Principals, is an organization which recognizes students with outstanding grades.

NHS recognized those seniors and juniors who excelled in service, leadership, and character, as well as academics. Students maintaining at least a 4.2 cumulative average were assessed by the faculty in these areas.

The South Chapter operates a book store, which is located in room 227. The store sells books at a discount price each morning before school. Along with a book store, the Granite City Charter is also displayed in room 227.

The South Chapter annually selects two students to compete for finalist for a scholarship award. The Association of Secondary Principals issues 2500 and 1000 dollar awards to members of NHS throughout the United States.

NHS meets on the third Monday of each month. At the end of the school year the club sponsors Touchstone, South's literary magazine. It also honors graduating seniors with an annual spring picnic.

National Honor Society is co-sponsored by Helen Cook and Helen Veloff.

BUSY YEAR FOR F.S.A.

It was a busy year for the Future Secretaries of America. One of the highlights included the Spring Olympics, besides selling ornaments, candy, and other goodies. The Spring Olympics involve contests in typing, shorthand, and fashion.

In order to be eligible for membership in FSA, one must have had at least six business courses. Future Secretaries of America provides experience for girls who plan to go in the business or secretarial world.

The regular meetings for FSA are held on the third Tuesday of every month at night in order that co-op girls may attend.

The club is sponsored by Jeanette Holder.

STOP THE PRESS

Under the supervision of Mary Ellen Johnson, the High World staff writes stories, draws layouts, gets pictures, and makes all necessary preparations to get the paper ready for printing.

Fifteen to sixteen issues are published each year covering school news, sports, editorials and features. A literary special edition is also published.

In the spring they attended the Southern III. School Press Association convention at S.I.U. Carbondale School of Journalism. There they are judged on their paper. In recent years they have received the blue banner for excellence.

STUDENT COUNCIL HAS ACTIVE YEAR

Student Council: A group of hard working students that work for the school and the community. To be a member, one has to be elected and have plenty of free time and energy.

What do they do? They organized the spring prom and helped to make it a great success. They also helped relieve the "disco fever" by sponsoring many dances throughout the year.

Two of their happiest accomplishments were the blood drive and the Christmas baskets. Their goal was 130 units of blood and received 170 units of blood from South students.

The other project was the collection of money for the needy at Christmas time. All homerooms were asked to reach a goal of $25.00. If their goal was reached they would receive an extended lunch period. Fifty-eight homerooms reached their goal, and a total of $2800 was collected.

Another holiday event was the Christmas Assembly held on December 21. The two hour gathering included a hypnotist and a few South's students.

All-in-all, Student Council had a very good year. Lori DeRossett, president greatly helped to the success as well as Ralph Barker, advisor.

ECONOMICS CLUB GETS INVOLVED

Girls in the Home Economics Club are interested in learning the fundamentals of sewing, cooking, and other aspects of homemaking.

"All work and no play is not the way," says Gay. Gay Wright is the Historian for the Home Economics Club. The group meets twice a month under the leadership of the President, Dawn Benson; Vice-President, Judy Click; and Secretary-Treasurer, Mary McCunnen.

The groups activities have thus far included a hayride and a Christmas party. They held a successful candy sale and donated to the Christmas basket fund.

At the present, their spring trip has not yet been planned. But most likely they will take a few trips around this area instead of going on one long trip. The advisor for the past two years has been Cheryl Gertsch.

QUILL & SCROLL SWINGS IN GEAR

Quill and Scroll is a National Honorary Society Club for members of the High World or Yearbook staff. Students must have 3.75 grade average to be recommended by DeeMara Spudich, yearbook sponsor, or Mary Ellen Johnson, High World sponsor.

Each year the club officers plan an initiation for the new members. The initiation includes a candle ceremony. The eight candles used symbolize Truth, Learning, Leadership, Loyalty, Initiative, Integrity, Judgment, and Friendship.

The club was organized April 10, 1926 for the purpose of rewarding and encouraging individual achievements in journalism.

The club officers are Gina Gibson and John Manooogian. Other members included are Brent Houston, Jack Burnett, Scott Buenger, Jim Kukarola, Patti Petty, Debby Kelly and Debbie Tillman from the Yearbook staff and Maral Habeshian, Paula Stavely, and Kathy Sikora, from the High World staff.

SMILE FOR US

Students in the Photography Club are those who are interested in learning more about photography, the universal language.

Members of the club are instructed on how to take better pictures. They start to look at things in a different angle and visualize them as pictures. They begin to see pictures everywhere they look. Members are shown the correct way to use various types of cameras. Once members prove they know how to operate a camera, the club's camera's may be checked out.

The officers teach darkroom techniques to members willing to stay after school, as they teach those members how to develop film and print pictures.

Club members with increased camera and darkroom skills are asked to take pictures for the yearbook.

Club sponsor is DeeMana Spudich.

INTEREST GROWS IN SCIENCE CLUB

The purpose of the GCHS/South Science club is twofold. First to stimulate interest in the field of science through extracurricular activities; and to promote leadership and scholarship.

Any South students are eligible to join, provided they are selected or elected in accordance with the membership standards.

Freshmen members must carry a "B" average in their science courses during the year. Sophomores must have earned credit for two science courses during their Freshman year, and must take at least one science course during their Sophomore year and maintain a "C" average in it.

Juniors and Seniors must take at least one science course and maintain a "C" average in it or have majored or minored in science.

The officers of the Science Club include: Marsha Curtis, president; Mike Himmelright, vice-president; Joe Koch, treasurer; and Gail Frazier, secretary. The club is under the direction of Beverly Frazier.

Club activities of this year included: a stereo raffle, won by Kevin Bloodworth, candy sales, a hay ride, mug sales, Christmas party, pie throwing booth, an ice skating party, and field trips to the Planetarium and The Magic House.

GUTEN TAG & ADIOS

It's like walking into a section of Europe or the Far East. The school's Foreigners Club is comprised of students interested in taking foreign language classes and learning about the different habits of persons living outside the United States.

Being bi-lingual has its advantages and rewards. Those who studied a language found that the key to universal communication is knowing a little more than the "average" person.

They also found a new outlook on life and living when studying the situations and behaviors of others.

This year's club has 15 members. John Sellmeyer was their sponsor. The officers include: David Hunnicutt, president; Marty Altenberger, vice-president; DeeMana Christoff, secretary; and Nancy Nolan, treasurer.

CRUISING

This year the Social Studies club used a wide variety of fund raising events in order for each member to get enough money for a cruise to the Caribbean Sea over Easter vacation. The group, under the supervision of Philip Shatto, visited such exotic places as the Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, where they can study the different styles of life throughout the world.

The group sold a number of different brands of candy as a main means of getting money. Other ways included bake sales in the cafeteria, rummage sales, selling stuffed animals, and oranges and grapefruit at Christmas. The club also won third place in the Homecoming Parade this year.

AND THE SHOW GOES ON

Hours of long hard work and dedication are the necessary factors of all the Stagecraft students. Stagecraft, a course that deals with the behind-the-scenes of the theater, is taught by Beverley Scroggins.

It is the duty of every student enrolled in the course to develop and construct the set for all of South's productions. Students not only work with producing scenery, but also with operating lights, sound equipment, props, and scenery changes during the actual performance.

It is also the job of the Stagecraft student to create and distribute the programs for the productions as well as collect the tickets at the door.

Passing Oral Communication and Beginning Stagecraft are some of the requirements students must meet in order to enroll in Advanced Stagecraft. Others include having a permit and recommendation from their Oral Communication's teacher.

"I am really glad that there are enough good hard working students who are willing to give their time to do a job that must be well done," remarked Beverley Scroggins.

THE PROS & CONS

Debate is formalized argumentation. One team argues for a specific change in the present system, while the other team defends the status quo.

Students spent one hour daily working in class and as much as two or three hours at home. No matter how much research, the work was never ending.

Continuously from October until March, dedicated participants of the thirteen-member team practiced. They were judged on delivery, evidence, reasoning, logic, cross examination and organization of their ideas.

Wendy Kambarian, advisor, was constantly being assured by the members of her team not to worry—they would definitely be prepared to meet the other team when the time came. And they always were.

LIVE, AND ON STAGE

Every year the Speech and Theater Club sponsors the Homecoming events. The club is responsible for choosing the Homecoming play theme, as well as deciding on what band should play at the Homecoming Dance.

To bring spirit to the Homecoming events, the club sells shakers and Homecoming buttons. Money made from these sales goes to the speech department. Play tickets and dance profits also go to the speech department.

The main people involved in getting priorities in order are the council representatives. They include Steve Schneider, president; Brenda Whitaker, vice-president; Mary Pennell, treasurer; and Charlene Bennington, secretary.

Members of the club are drawn from all aspects of the communication department, ranging from debate, acting, stagecraft, or individual events. In order to become a member of the club, a student must either be a member of the National Forensic League or the International Thespians.

Ronald Pennell, advisor, says, "I am really glad that the students have the opportunity to become part of an organization that deals with all the arts of communication."

SOUNDS OF MUSIC

The Advanced Mixed Chorus made up of 52 students performed at many school activities and provided South with many forms of musical entertainment. Advanced Mixed Chorus also performed at the Christmas and Spring concerts.

The newly renamed Southern Express, a group of singers selected in tryouts by music director Mary Bright, performed their singing talents on many occasions, including performing at Christmas and Spring concerts, performing at churches during the Christmas season and performing for anyone else who would ask them. Also performing at the Christmas and Spring concerts were the Girl's Glee Club and the Contando club.

MUSIC, MUSIC ...

Each year GCHS/South's band endeavors to present a wide variety of cultural music programs for audiences. Students interested in music are inspired to present programs which will give the audience an opportunity to enrich their musical experiences and to gain an appreciation of the "finer things in life". Almost without exception, the performers feel that their personal satisfaction after a successful performance is adequate compensation for their many hours of time and hard work.

Under the direction of Joseph Owens, South's band provided enthusiasm, spirit, and support for all school functions.

ROBOTS TAKE CHARGE OF SOUTH'S STAGE

As the crowds of people were waiting in the auditorium for robots to break out onto the stage, mysterious music was quietly pouring out of the loudspeakers. Gradually the music grew louder and the lights dimmed and flickered. The curtain then opened to reveal to the audience Granite City South's first performance of R.U.R. (Rossum's Universal Robots.)

The performance reflected six weeks of rehearsal by the cast and the direction of Richard King. Beverly Scroggins' sixth hour Advanced Stagecraft class worked many weeks on the props and on the special effects.

"It has been one of the most cooperative casts I have had the pleasure to work with," commented Richard King. "The highlights of the performance were the lighting and special effects," added Mrs. Scroggins.

"Incidentally, the word 'robot' was coined in this play," Mr. King concluded.

SEE THE FACULTY RUN

This year's faculty play was a farce entitled See How They Run. It was performed February 14 and 15.

The play took place in a small vicarage in England. The plot was centered around multiple cases of mistaken identity which made for mass confusion.

The major roles were played by Beverly Frazier, the vicar's wife and formerly an actress; Warren Jones as Clive Winton and also a former actor but now in the military; the vicar Lionell Toop portrayed by Ronald Pennell; and Carroll Chamness as the Bishop of Lax.

Other members included Cheryl Gertsch, Bill Rotter, Ben Schutzenhofer, Mary Thrane, and Gary Wilbur.

Nearly 90 hours of hard work and practice went into the production of this performance, including some weekends.

When asked why many of the same teachers keep auditioning for parts in the faculty play each year, Director Ronald Pennell replied, "It's the magic of the theatre."

THREE CHEERS FOR THOSE WHO CHEER

Surprising enough, even a high school as rowdy as Granite City South, did at times need a hand in supporting its football, soccer, and wrestling teams. This is when the cheerleaders helped most.

The cheerleading squads, generally made up of seven to eight girls, did more than just dazzle fans with their jazzed up routines. They inspired team members to victory and helped fans get involved in game spirit.

Their goal was to make the often stubborn crowds as fired up as possible. They did this with a cheerleading style fashionable and customary to the GCHS/S tradition.

While at summer camp, the girls captured a trophy for sparkle and shine. This was one of the many the girls received. Upon returning to South, they displayed what they learned throughout the sporting season.

Peggy Cunningham, sponsor of the squads for her second year, finds the girls a pleasure to work with. "They're full of spirit and enthusiasm," she says. "You can really tell how enthused they are when they cheer in front of sporting fans."

Though each of the cheerleading squad's functions were different, they all kept team moral high in times of glory and defeat. For this, and for their countless hours of practice, three cheers are in order.

POM PON SQUAD ENTERTAINS US

Under the direction of a new sponsor, Joseph Owens, the Pom-Pon squad again continued to delight crowds with their eye-pleasing routines. The squad performed routines at football and basketball games. They also performed at Open House and other Granite City events and festivities.

Joseph Owens, who is in charge of Pom-Pons said, "It is fun being with the girls and helping them."

Owens' role is one of an advisor, and he lets the girls make most of the decisions. Each girl has her own duty, whether it's choreographing the dances or just being a part of the squad.

Even though practice takes up much of their time, they enjoy it because the end result is well worth it.

AN ACTIVE YEAR

Red Peppers once again started off to a fantastic year. This year the club had a new sponsor, Donald Deterding.

To be considered as an active member of the club, the girls must obtain 400 points throughout the year. Other than obtaining points by attending the games, the girls receive points for their "secret pals," and scrapbooks. They can also earn points by attending business and decoration meetings.

"Being president of Red Peppers added much responsibility and hard work to my senior year, but I think it was well worth it," says Laurie Jones, president. "Mr. Deterding, our new sponsor, was definitely the best thing that could have happened to the club this year. His hard work and leadership were a great asset. I hope this year has left an example of other years to follow."

FEMALES TAKE THE FOREGROUND

One of the clubs rapidly gaining in popularity is the S.L.A.C. (South Leader Athletic Club). This year it had a record membership of 42 people. It has become one of South's biggest clubs.

S.L.A.C. had several fund-raising ideas to help pay for girls athletic lockers. Selling sweaters and candy helped them earn the $3000 necessary.

Meetings were held every week on Thursday. Even though the meetings began at 7:30 a.m., many of the faithful members attended regularly.

S.L.A.C.'s sponsor is Charlotte Charbonnier. Mrs. Charbonnier has sponsored the club since its beginning last year.

DEADLINES, DEADLINES, DEADLINES ...

The Warrior yearbook took more time and work than anyone could possibly imagine. Publishing a 308-page book in just a few months is not an easy task. Considering the amount of pictures and copy in this year's book, the staff did a very good job.

Those who were eager to write and able to write were asked to do so. Those who had the capabilities to take photographs were also put to good use. Their ability to process the film and print the pictures was a time-saving device to the rest of the staff.

This year's book increased in size. Last year's book had 264 pages in it and this year's Warrior has 308 pages. All things considered, the book is a real bargain.

Senior members of the staff include Scott Buenger, Jack Burnett, Gina Gibson, co-editor, Brent Houston, Debby Kelly, Karen Koch, Ann Modrusic, co-editor, and Dan Gundlach, photographer.

Other members include Brian Ballard, Todd Goodrich, James Kukarola, Patti Petty, and Debbie Tillman. The Warrior yearbook advisor was DeeMana Spudich.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office for National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 0.5 million in the same period.

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a strategy for the future of health care for older people. This strategy is based on the principle that older people should be able to live in their own homes for as long as possible, and that health care should be provided in a way that is appropriate to their needs. This strategy has led to a number of initiatives, including the development of home care services, the establishment of local authority housing services, and the development of specialist services for older people.

One of the key initiatives in the strategy is the development of home care services. Home care services are provided to older people who are unable to live independently in their own homes. These services can include a range of activities, such as help with personal care, help with household tasks, and help with shopping and transport. Home care services are provided by a range of providers, including local authorities, private companies, and voluntary organisations.

Another key initiative in the strategy is the establishment of local authority housing services. These services are responsible for ensuring that older people have access to suitable housing. This can involve a range of activities, such as assessing the needs of older people, providing advice and support, and arranging for the provision of housing. Local authority housing services are provided by local authorities, and are funded by the government.

The development of specialist services for older people is another key initiative in the strategy. These services are designed to meet the specific needs of older people, and can include a range of activities, such as health care, social care, and housing. Specialist services are provided by a range of providers, including local authorities, private companies, and voluntary organisations.

The strategy for the future of health care for older people is based on the principle that older people should be able to live in their own homes for as long as possible. This principle is reflected in the development of home care services, the establishment of local authority housing services, and the development of specialist services for older people. The strategy is designed to ensure that older people have access to the services they need to live independently in their own homes.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 15.5 million by 2020, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 8.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000). The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to be due to a combination of factors, including a decline in the birth rate, a decline in the death rate, and a decline in the rate of immigration.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to have a significant impact on the UK's health and social care system. The number of people aged 65 and over who are in need of health and social care services is expected to increase from 1.5 million in 1990 to 2.5 million in 2020 (Office of National Statistics 2000). This increase is expected to be due to a combination of factors, including a decline in the birth rate, a decline in the death rate, and a decline in the rate of immigration.
